It is estimated at the total ded dency will not excerd $150,000.

Affiger is under bonds to the company for $70.-00. The company employed an auditing committee, lich passed upon the accounts of the agency multip. It appears, however, it is stated that the minities was led into the belief that there were go balances due from the agents. Mr. semaker stated that the total amount one seriam companies was $17.850. Mr. kger is secretary of the National board underwriters. The gentlemen at present in race of the agency deny that they had any knowled of the agency if July Information came to them at that a that the firm was in the habit of negotiating powersy loans on the street, and that other susous transactions were taking place. The knowled however, that the agency was in default did come to them until September 8th.

Frank Leslie's Business Arrangements New York October 5.—The creditors of Frank Lesile to-day adopted the report of the committee appointed to devise a settlement. The report advised the glosilors to consolidate their interests and letrust the eather business to a board of management, coasisting of five of the principal creditors. It is also stated that, after a careful examination, the books were found in great confusion; no balance-sheet fand been made since 1873, and the books had not been written up since March last. The business is considered a paying one. Lesile had frawn very larguly upon the resources of the establishment, the amount being about seventy-five thorsand dollars per annum, which, in their judgment, cas in excess of the profits. The business had also seen conducted very extrawagnathy. The committee hought that in three years the indebtedness could so paid. The judg proposed that Lesile have superision of the business, and that he be allowed twenty per cent, of the profits as a salary-eighty per cent, of the profits as a salary-eighty per cent, to be divided pro rota, quartiry, among the selitors. The board of management consists of a lovernor Rice, of Massachusetts; Wm. H. Pearms, John H. Hall, Edward Goodwin, E., and Wm. Wilson. New York, October 5 .- The creditors of San Antonio, Texas, October 2.—At last we have authentic and official information respecting the movements of the Bullis command and those of the force under the direction of Lieutenant-Coone: Shafter, a dispatch heaving been received from the latter officer. Fr in the report made by Cologel Shafter, it appears that the sensational dispatches to the San Anton o papers, abstracts of which were duly forwarded yest-riday to the Herald, have no foundation in fact, and were merely based on idle rumors, which were in circulation at Fort Clark and other points on both sides the border.

NO FIGHTING AT ALL: NO FIGHTING AT ALL:

There has been no engagement between American and Mexican troops, nor has there been any lighting with the marauding indians, in whose pursuit Lieutenant Bullis and his men crossed over into Mexican territory. The fact that such wild reports were forwarded to the newspapers here, and the partial reliance placed in them by the military, only shows how easily these border troubles can be magnified. Now that the real facts are known the position of affairs assumes a betaily different aspect, and prospective nostilities, so confidently looked for yesterday, are fasther off than ever.

MEXICAN ARMED NEUTRALITY. Of all else, don't deliver us to them.

MEXICAN ARMED NEUTRALITY. MEXICAN ARMED NEUTRALITY.

Judging from the report of Colonel Shafter to General Ord, the Mexican troops merely acted as a party of observation, and followed the Americans at a safe and respectful distance, just as General Falcon, their commander, had instructed them. An outline of these instructions was telegraphed you resterday. The story that over one thousand Mexicans (citizens) had left the towns of Sartigossa, Piedras-Negras and Villa-Neuva was evidently drawn from the imalination of the excited correspondent, for nothing was apparently seen of them by either Licutemant Bullis or Colonel Shafter, for neither of their commands were surrounded, much less in peril.

A OUESTION OF PRUDENCE. Boston, October 5.—At the meeting of the Episcopal general convention to-day, Rev. Dr. De-Koven, of Wisconsin, offered the following resolution in behalf of the diocese of Wiscons n:

*Resolved. That the house of bishops concurring, a constitutional commission be appointed, consisting of seven bishops, seven presbyters and seven laymen, to consider the question of a change in the legal title of the church, and also to consider what other amendments, if any, should be made in the constitution of the church at the beginning of the entering of the second century of its growth upon which it is about to enter, and that they be asked to print and circulate their report at least once a month before the meeting of the next convention.

Dr. DeKoven moved to have this resolution referred to the committee on amendments to the constitution. He said there were two things in the memorial presented—first, regarding the change of the name of the church, and second, the constitutional commission, which was the most important portion of the paper. The motion of Dr. DeKoven prevalled, after a motion to lay on the table was rejected.

The committee on constitutional amendments re-A QUESTION OF PRUDENCE. But the current opinion here is that the reason no attack was made by the Mexican cavalry was due to the fact that the presence of Colonel Shafter's command made if prudent for them to stand aloof. Had Lieutenant Bullis not found the supporting column so near him the Mexicans might have acted differently, and assumed an offensive position instead of the neutral. As you will see by Colonel Shafter's report, both he and Lieutenant Bullis evidently believed they were about to be attacked, for they prepared for such an attempt as soon as the Mexicans appeared in sight.

INSINCERITY OF THE MEXICANS.

INSINCERITY OF THE MEXICANS. INSINCERITY OF THE MEXICANS.

No dependence is placed on the sincerity of the Mexicans in their promises to co-perate with our forces in pursuing and afresting raiders, and should it hereafter be deemed necessary for our troops to cross the line in pursuit of cattle and horse-thieves, they may find themselves opposed to a Mexican force sufficiently numerous to prevent them going far, for in that case there is every probability that the Mexicans would make an offensive demonstration, if rot a decided attack. That they are hostile in feeling there cannot be any doubt, and the troops are in full sympathy with the people on the question of preventing the pursuit of raiders across the botder.

Another Account. valled, after a motion to lay on the table was rejected.

The committee on constitutional amendments reported in favor of limitation of the jurisdic ion of the bishops of western and northem Texas and California, and recommended that the house ratify the amendment providing for the relief of the bishoprics which are too large. Before the convention could act it was stated that Maryland had not received the proper legal notice. This caused a long discussion as to what was a proper notice. Rev. Dr. Adams, of wiscensin, opposed the amendment.

At the meeting of the Episcopal board of missions, the committee of three bishops appointed to take into consideration the indebtedness of the board reported that about twenty-three thousand dollars was still wanted, but the whole sum could have been raised had the ciergimen in a large number of parish-

SAN ANTONIO, TEN., October 2.—Mexican affairs remain unchanged to-day. Excitement along the Ho Grande is intense, having been increased by Bullis's raid. San Antonio Herald specials of resterday from Fort Clark, stating that Bullis had been attacked, are contradicted by the efficial report of Colonel Shaffer. Shaffer did not move to the support of Hullis until after repeated orders from General Ord. General Ord is making out his annual report to the secretary of war to-day. He will urge an increase of the militia force along the Rio Grande, and represent the outrages perpetrated by Mexicans on Texas soil in their true light. His orders are that no toops shall cross the river unless in force sufficient to repel any Mexican attack. The Mexicans exhibit an open contempt for the colored troops and their officers. Nolan, the hero of the Staked plains seouts, is, however, a favorite with General Ord. Public feeling in this city is strong for armed resistance to Mexican outrages, and veterans of the late war are offering their services to Colonel J. H. M. Leary to serve in his cavary regiment. As soon as orders are received from Governor Hubband to proceed, M. Leary's regiment will be officered by well-known officers of the late war. A regiment could be raised here in twenty-four hours. The great lack is arms and money. The Mexican population here is greatly excite. M. Tiempo, the Lerdo organ here, is very bitter against Americans. In the most conservative circles war is believed to be inevitable, and all classes desire it. There is hardly a stock man from this city to the Rio Grande who has not suffered from Mexican depredations. Along the river affairs are still worse, and as a matter of course the feeling is still more intense. It is expected the Mexicans will take the initiative. Diaz has no power to enforce his decrees along the Rio Grande, and the Lerdists are striving to excite the people to commence hostilities against Texas as a means of insuring the downfail of Diaz. General Ord states that Buillis was sent

London, October 5.—A Vienna dispatch says that the Motenegrin abandonment of further offensive movements in Herzegovina is due to political considerations. The territory they now hold on that side exactly corresponds with the line of demarkation fixed last autumn by the International commission, and likewise proposed and accepted by the preliminary conference at Constantinople as a rectincation of the frontier which might even be given to Montenegro. It is not likely, therefore, that Montenegro will be allowed more in the final settlement which must be made by Europe. So Prince Nicholas, with his equal cool calcujation, is now turning his attention to the other side, to conquer what he can there, on the chance of being allowed to keep it, because it will not interfere with the interests of any power, and, at the same time, he may be able to co-operate with Servia in the direction of Sinitza and Novi-Bazar, in case Servia renews hostilities.

A dispatch from Beilin states that Mehemit Ali resigned the chief command of the Turkish army on account of a lack of co-operation of the other generals and because the government failed to furnish the reinforcements demanded.

A correspondent with General Melikoff's army telegraphing from Rosecheno, under date of Thursday, says: "At three o'clock this afternoon the Russians were surrounding Kizil Tepe, when Mukhiar Pasha, desperate at seeing his communications cut and Kars threatened, advanced against our center with twenty battalions. The Turks were received with a grushing artillery fire. The Russian trailieurs drove them back, pursuing them toward soubstal till nightfall. The Turks were utterly demoralized, and everywhere took to flight. To-morrow [Friday] a great battle is expected along the whole front, when we hope to cut Mukhtar's communications and render his position hopeless. Our losses are unknown, but over two thousand are reported missing." Constantinople.

Suleiman Pasha, Fazil Pasha, Mehemet All and Achmed Eroub have arrived at Shumla, the last two on their way hither.

Mukhtar Fasha telegraphs that on Thursday the Turks reoccupted the nights of Great Yagni, which had been evacuated by the Russians during the night. The Turkish columns are now attacking the Russians, who are concentrated on the bank of the Karstoal, opposite Kabak hights.

While the Turkish cavality from Soubalar and a corps from Kizii-Tepe have been sent to threaten the communication of the Russians with their camp at Kurabel, fighting was proceeding when a telegram was dispatched Thursday, but Mukhtar Pasha concludes as follows: "We have every confidence in our success."

EFFECT OF AN ENGAGEMENT. It would be impossible to tell now what action would be taken in case Lieutenant Bullis and Colonel Shafter had met with armed resistance and fought an engagement on Mexican soil. That would have to be determined by the facts when they were all known, whatever they might be. Mr. Seward retierated the opinion that if our troops had met with any trouble it came from the cattle-thieves and their confederates.

New York, October 5.—There are no additions reported to the amount already given of Wm. C. Gilman's forgeries. He was executor and manager of the estate of his brother, and it is believed that the proceeds of the estate were used by him before he resorted to forgery to cover his heavy losses. His creditors generally deny that any steps are being taken by them looking toward a compounding of the felony. The assets of Gilman are heavier than at first reported, which was that it would aggregate about twenty thousand dollars. The house and furniture on Thirty-sixth street is valued at thirty thousand dollars. The very last act of Mr. Gilman, before leaving the city, on Saturday, was to secure a loan from the Commercial mutual company, turning over among other collateral scrip which he purchased from James Eaton and two small pieces, raised heavily, for which he paid respectively one hundred and eighty and eighty dollars. These checks, with one for one thousand and forty dollars given to Mr. Eaton, reduced his balance in the American Exchange bank to about three hundred dollars in money received from the Commercial mutual loan, Gilman took with him to Norwich to pay the bills incurred by his family during the summer. In Insurance circles he opinton is prevalent that Gilman is in the city and in daily communication with his family and confidential advisers.

torpid brutes, but treating their victims rudely, obscenely and disgracefully—you know the old axiom. Thus, since knowing this vulnerable side, in ories to defend ourselves, our panic-stricken fears are mixed with a kind of curiosity or temerity, and makes matters appear rather improbable. Yet, observing previous manifestations, we are waiting with a certain impatience. It is also said, in this city (Alamos, State of Sonora) there are a considerable number of the brutes, and we are anxious to know the truth from you whether our account of them is true, and whether ther are really going to swallow us. Finally, in any event we wish to be prepared. But you must be quick, because they say these animals come on the wind at any moment; in that case, our prayers and prathes to him on high would be of no value, for they say that besides their torpid, rude, obscene bru allity, they are neverthelss lively animals.
